

Crop Circles

T30 – T56

Volume 3

Pictures are used with permission of Colin Andrews from his Crop Circle Catalogue Volume 3

Janu served as the gatekeeper to all attunements, but his remarks are only included if they added to an understanding of the topic. The Hierarchy of Light provided the initial information and was a group of entities who chose not to identify themselves further. At T-40, their name changed to Brotherhood of the One Light, for reasons they explain at that time, and both names were used off and on, depending upon which pattern configuration suited the journey.

A friend assisted with the attunements, designated as Q. On occasion, others visited as well, and might then be designated as Q2, Q3, etc. It should also be noted that generally the participants were asked if they agreed to the journey, although this exchange was edited out in the interest of space.

T-30: the Voice of God	Page 3
T-31: Moving past the barrier of time from linear to non-linear reality	Page 4
T-32: Experiencing divine peace which is at the same time infinite stillness and infinite frequency or vitality	Page 5
T-33: Experiencing the source of all our desires and no longer being the pawns of our interests	Page 6
T-34: The Solar bodies	Page 8
T-35: Understanding the nature and purpose of the "Dark Side of Life"	Page 9
T-36: Challenging our concepts of the nature of reality	Page 11
T-37: Experiencing the electrical aspect of our crystalline nature	Page 13
T-38: Divine Order	Page 15
T-39: A time in human history when a journey into darkness required Divine intervention	Page 16
T-40: a Paradigm Shift in consciousness	Page 19

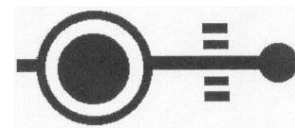

T-41: Moving along the chakra tree	Page 20
T-42: "Threshold One," the next level of awareness of life	Page 22
T-43: cosmic consciousness through the eighth chakra under the authority of the master chakra	Page 24
T-44: Coexistence of divine paradox--creation & creator	Page 25
T-45: An opportunity to embrace our own origins	Page 26
T-46: from the triune into the one, the seed kernel of your life where you own the beginning and the end of life	Page 28
T-47: destiny accessed through the resolution of the illusion of past & future	Page 31
T-48: resolving the dichotomy of duality	Page 33
T-49: one-pointedness in perfect harmony with infinite variety of perspectives	Page 36
T-50: a vehicle for travel	Page 37
T-51: spinning up to a reality where only a thought is between you and what you would see and understand	Page 39
T-52: the spark of life in the True Nature	Page 40
T-53: merging all lifetimes into a larger identity	Page 41
T-54: awakening to your true office in life	Page 42
T-55: the many realities of time	Page 43
T-56: the call to muster from your True Nature	Page 45

T-30: the Voice of God

Sept. 27, 1999 A

JANU: Yes, good morning, my brother. I am Janu speaking, preparing for this morning's journey at this time. We welcome you and those who attend on the, as you put it, other side of life, but not so distant as one might seem to think that they are. We will hold focus during this discourse, for this journey compels a certain degree of trust in your integrity and the integrity of those who guide the experience, for so much of your sense of security and stability in your station in life is based upon that which will be altered at this time for an experience in a measure of freedom to engage a larger truth of life. The glyph of this morning's focus not only initiates this separation from the hold the senses have upon the ego consciousness but also prepares one for a journey into a measure of freedom. Now then, let us proceed with this morning's adventure.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Greetings, brothers. We are the Hierarchy of Light and commissioning at this time those that will participate in this morning's exercise. Please be reminded that, as our brother has stated, your integrity and security in that, your confidence in that, will be the controlling factor in this experience. However, one must realize that the challenge will seem to be to that integrity, but it is not. What we are journeying into this morning is a departure from the limitations of a limited frame of reference for your awareness and your understanding.

T30

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

We do caution and urge you both to achieve a connection with, through invocation, that core nature of your being that is larger than, and not limited to, the human ego. For the journey into freedom, brothers, is accomplished in this way. This glyph of this morning's interest, designated T-30, is actually spinning at an accelerated rate, both along its axis and the plane of its presentation, rotating on its axis and spinning on its plane of presentation. This balances the forces that appear as divergent, as the journeys begin.

Now, by the authority and integrity of your true nature, be one with this configuration.

This will seem at first as two forces in competition pulling you in two different directions. This will give way to a unity of being that embraces them both. Through this transition from dichotomy to unity, one is free of, in varying degrees, the limitations of duality into the freedom of the integrity of the true nature. In one shining moment, you will realize the true light of freedom, when in equilibrium of unity of being.

Your senses tell you the truth only of the world of duality, dear one. Awaken those senses of the larger life. And now you are one with the currents of life. No longer a true nature defined by human terms and reference. Let pure thought and desire guide your reality and touch life with the presence of who you truly are.

You are, in this knowingness, the voice of God and all of life hears that voice and responds. And with this voice you chose the human journey. And, with this voice, you leave it.

And now remember this freedom and the voice of God that is your nature, and return once more to enlightened duality.

Thank you, our brothers, for this journey and exercise in freedom. We are the Hierarchy of Light, your guides.

T-31: Moving past the barrier of time from linear to non-linear reality Oct. 4, 1999 A JANU: Yes, good afternoon, my brother. I am Janu speaking and responding to your unspoken query at this time having to do with the reality of the realms, both patterned with form and those free of such pattern, you see. Your relationship with these extends primarily to that which is formless. Those who present their communication with the realms of form pattern do so as their level of interest so decrees. To limit yourself in this way would preclude these many journeys.

Now then, let us move forward with today's journey, that being these graphical representations of higher understanding. We have announced your intent and heralded that needed for proceeding. We leave this, then, to the mastership of those serving this series of presentations. We attune at this time.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Yes, greetings, brother. We are the Hierarchy of Light, co-existing in your coordinates at this time. For in many ways your understanding of coordinates describes our manipulations of reality for such connection and discourse.

We will continue then with that which has been designated T-31 and, should you choose to join us today, be prepared for a journey of some rapid acceleration in your sensation of movement.

This glyph or crop circle, if you prefer, journeys one, so to speak, across what some describe as the barrier of time.

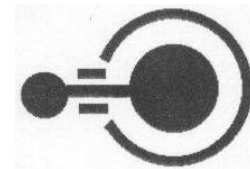

The movement in reality reference for you will seem as though great speeds are being achieved to your senses. This is not the case, however. Only an illusion of the transition experience that this configuration patterns you for.

In a certain way, this experience moves you from linear to non-linear reality. However, understand that the treatment of the perception of distance or space reality is not treated the same way as time. This is why we do not lump these two together for this experience, you see. The other is achieved with a slight modification to this configuration.

Now then, let us proceed with what this pattern affords. One moment. We would have you, at this time, anchor, so to speak, or affirm a synchronization of your subtle vehicles that no one of them drift even the slightest during this transition. You must accomplish this as an integrated being.

The purpose of this journey and glyph as offered to human experience is, for some, somewhat obvious and for others a mystery. However, this shall free the individual into collective understanding and experience of reality that is timeless; therefore, bringing into union and synchronicity what you call the past and the future. For those in the realms not subject to that restriction see life in a different way.

The symbolism of in this configuration, that being the outer arc or circle being broken by the lifeline between egos, represents the perception of the break in continuity of the realm of duality. We will for a moment, though briefly, complete this circle. Now then, embrace the absolute core of your nature that contains within it the complete spectrum of duality reality and resolve past and future into one moment. And now, allow the circle to be completed within you. And as the break in the circle closes, make the transition.

T31

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

As you may perceive, the sense of speed is the almost instantaneous movement from limited being to unlimited being, which is your true nature. This journey will continue for some time, depending upon the degree of your acceptance of your larger, more complete identity.

In this delicate balance of consciousness, you can perceive a portion of your reality that exists in duality and time and space as but a moment in the truth of what you really are. Without this movement in consciousness, the continuum of your Earth reference will forever color your perception of the larger life. With this movement, you are no longer in the box looking outward. The perception of movement through space is transformed into motionless movement, once the time barrier is transcended.

Linger in this reality 'til you find stability and familiarity. Time is a no thing and gives way to simultaneousness. Many journeys are now possible with the slightest thought, for all form, and time, and space exist within this beingness. A return to now, to that portion of existence, by choice, free now to move as you will. These movements in life are as natural as breathing and are part of your larger reality.

We have enjoyed journeying with you in this way. We are the Hierarchy of Light. Good afternoon.

T-32: Experiencing divine peace which is at the same time infinite stillness and infinite frequency or vitality

October 11, 1999 A

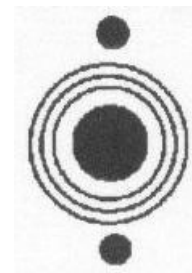

JANU: Your focus being your designation T-32 in this series of presentations, this being one step above that which has been presented most recently in the sophistication, shall we say, of this series of journeys. Do you have any inquiries at this time before we proceed?

Q: Before we started, we postulated or hypothesized that possibly, if we were to revisit any of these, we might get a different interpretation. Do you have any comments on that?

JANU: This is true, in so much as the perceptive capacities of the individual cannot assimilate in linear mind the multiple reality existence of that they represent in a single go-round, if you will. There is a multiplicity of not only factors in this reality, but structures, although harmonious, in that which you are attempting to perceive.

Let us proceed then. We attune now at this time to that representation so designated, meaning that which this glyph represents. And this journey will require a certain degree of centering for equilibrium, as this is once more initially a high-speed journey, dear one. You will be revving up, so to speak, your sensibilities, your vehicles of perception from what appears to, and feels as, speed in the beginning, eventually melding into a stability that belies the speed. Now, then, let us transfer our communication to those who will carry this journey for you.

As a spinning disc or wheel must be true and in balance, so must your energy vehicles at this time. You will be monitored.

T32

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Yes, greetings. We are the Hierarchy of Light, embarking upon this adventure at this time and our brother has spoken well of that which is required. Prepare yourself at this time for this journey by allowing your senses to find harmonious and peaceful stability with each other. You will be entering this gate "on the run," as some would call it. And it is similar to a Merkaba experience, although of a different order, you see. For this Merkaba will transform you and transport you beyond the reality of your universe in the sense of finiteness.

Now, as you view this glyph, observe the center sphere being the axis of rotation and the outer two spinning about it and generating the three rings of fields, if you will, that represent the triune nature of the universe of your familiarity. You will be contained within this structure for this journey, this relationship. Now here is the tricky part. As this spins up in speed--your perception of speed, might we add--as it increases, you increase your merging with the relationships that exist within this structure and your frequency of consciousness is increased in synchronicity.

We will pause as you achieve the beginnings of this.

Let go of the sense of physical identification of human form in dense gross body matter. You are now become this spinning relationship. Allow the speed to increase to the point where there is no sense of speed at all. This is the nature of Divine Stillness, dear one. This allows you to experience a measure of infinite stillness, whose nature is infinite vitality, infinite frequency that can embrace all realities at once.

(extended pause)

Yes, that is sufficient for this introduction. Please slowly return to a stability of your former experience. Do not hasten the return. Allow it to drift down in frequency in its own way. This should be a comfortable experience. We do not advise continuing this journey without guidance, at this stage of your adaptability. The degree of equilibrium required is not easily met by the individual without assistance. We will continue with this at another time, should you choose.

We are the Hierarchy of Light, bidding you good morning at this time.

The following took place after attunement ended:

JR: In this representation, the outer two circles represent duality existence. This represents the unity to be achieved. the three rings represent triune nature of this dual existence and they are your return key to return to this existence, as a guarantee. They are your lifeline, your link, back to the physical experience without taking off. They give you the return path. And they're generated by this spinning.

I actually tasted for a moment the beginnings of the peace they were talking about, where the God within you, the true being, the core nature of existence, is at the same time infinite stillness and, at the same time, infinite vitality or frequency or...and because its frequency is so high, all lesser frequencies can be created from it.

T-33: Experiencing the source of all our desires and no longer being the pawns of our interests

October 18, 1999 A

JANU: I am Janu speaking greeting you at this time with that which is held continuing the expression of the Hierarchy of Light and their wise counsel. This issue of your discussion this morning heralds some modification in this morning's presentation for there is a desire on the part of the Hierarchy of Light to pursue this issue at some length, for it bears witness upon that which is to be presented from time to time. The achievements of humanity in this arena of the duality of consciousness becomes "duel" and therefore fosters the warrior state, if you will. This duel exists as life pushing against itself with the result of causing what you would call a "disturbance in the continuum," forcing, if you will, creation. In this light, the duel is honorable in the sense of realizing the Divine desire. However, is but one experiment in the attempt to realize the potential of that spark which is served by all desire, you see.

Now then, let us proceed with this morning's exercise and attune, then, to this next presentation.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Greetings, brother. This Hierarchy of Light speaks to you at this time, commanded by that presence known as your desire. Powerful is this reality in human consciousness, for it does command the response of life of itself. Now then, as we speak at this moment on this subject, we bring to your attention the culmination of all desire that being the return to the source of your desire realized.

What this represents is the struggle within the individual as well for expression. To understand the nature of the expression or manifestation of all of the hierarchy of desire within your being is to master the assimilation of its outcome, you see. By this we mean you are no longer the pawn of your interests as so many are at this time. They are motivated and driven without the clarity of owning the process.

We will enter, at this time, into this configuration to master this core understanding as to the nature of the complete reality of who you are, even what you are, and that that gives you the authority to be. To accomplish this, you must relinquish your hold on any ego-driven pride of ownership of any position in life that you are aware of as a finite being. You are about to enter, or should we say expand into, the completeness of your being. The representation of duality in this image, when resolved in this way, completes itself in its source, as do you. Let go, for a moment, of duality reality and acknowledge, as your being, completeness. Do this at this time.

Q: How is the glyph used in this? Or is it?

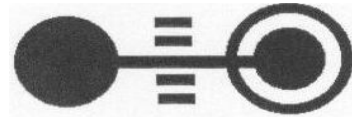

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: This glyph is not entered as previously experienced in others. It represents duality and equilibrium for the purpose of manifesting desire of your completeness. Let go of this image as you would let go of your own sense of beingness as an expression of this duality expression, perpetuated by your true desire.

(extended pause)

That will do for now. Maintain the integrity of your journey while examining its cause. Until another time. We are through.

The following conversation took place after attunement ended

JR: That was great. You got into touch with--what do you call it?--the reality of the cause of this whole journey, the whole physical thing, the duality. It was really free from being identified with any of it, but not to abolish it or deny it. But I was no longer owned by it. Just touching the surface of that. What was your experience?

T33

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Q: I just blanked out. Connected with Higher Self and went into space, detached from the body, just in free spirit form. Imagined I was dead, had passed over. Just reconnected with everything. No duality. It was very peaceful. With no ownership. No nothing.

JR: In time I would be able to experience or know other possibilities in manifesting, besides this particular model of duality but it's going to take some getting used to. It's quite a journey.

Q: Again, where did you go on this? To another duality?

JR: To the core nature of my pure being that initiates the journey into this duality. But it's not just the true being, it's the piece of consciousness that starts it, that's connected to this--how do I put it?--that initiates the process. It's a consciousness projection. It's created by the desire of the True Being. And it chose this model of life pushing against life that causes a duality that's this model, that's this existence here. But that model, at that point of initiating it all, can be a variety, not just this one. There's a lot to learn about that.

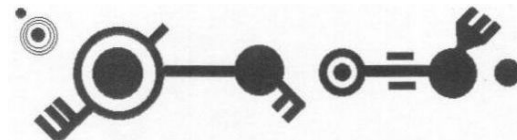

T-34: The Solar bodies

October 25, 1999 B

JANU: I am Janu speaking and what we have before us this afternoon is that assemblage of symbolic representation having to do with the organization of, shall we say, your solar bodies, those bodies that find configuration within this system of worlds. The elements of which, meaning these glyphs, representing complex relationship of your system of life. To understand the human journey and its compatibility with your solar system, not just your world you see, is an imperative for what lies before you in the years to come. These arrangements, these configurations, co-join in such a way as to bring about a revelation for the purpose of mastership of these elements. We bring to you at this time those that would convey this understanding and are under the auspices of those that guide this series, namely the Hierarchy of Light. We proceed now with this journey.

Be prepared, as a cautionary note, for a journey that will reach the limits of your capacity for complexity, equilibrium and the honesty to confront and touch that core nature that produced you, dear one.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Greetings, children of the Light. We are the Hierarchy of Light and we present at this time that body of understanding and some experience that will reveal to some degree, or is conveyed by the authority of that which we are, yet to have been revealed to you, you see, for it takes such authority to embark on such a journey. These journeys are not given lightly, for they carry with them transformations within the elements of your composite reality that will sing a different song in your life, dear ones, should you embark upon them, carrying many ramifications, including certain responsibilities. This is welcomed by the serious journeyer. By that we mean the journey into the maturity of your true nature. Now then, let us proceed.

T 34

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

We discipline at this time the aberrations of consciousness evidenced through your subtle bodies that would prove impediments to this journey. One moment as this proceeds.

Now then, centered in the integrity of your true nature, allow the correspondences to take place between the elements of your structure and the configurations of these glyphs, if you will. They align and confine then your elemental structure for the purpose of the core design, pattern if you will, of the complexity of life that is your world, your solar system, and your being. What you are about to embrace is system consciousness on the scale of this solar life body. And now you can see, through the powers of perception of your being, not only a tenth world but others as well.

In time, you will discern the synergism of life of the solar bodies in your system, for this life complex is who you are and yet, you are even more than this. There is no function within this solar body that is not yours to know, experience, and understand. More than that, you become a contributing consciousness to its journey. We will not linger here too long, for this presents a bit of a strain on your attachments to your current journey. But taste it well, for it is in your path, in your future and your evolving maturity.

You are by no means alone in this embrace and will, in due course, become aware of many others, for your solar system is so much more than the worlds of your understanding. It is rich with life and light. Withdraw now, ever so gently, retaining the imprint of your choosing, for mutual registration of this moment exists. We will assist in the return for this one through whom we speak finds this a more natural setting and would linger.

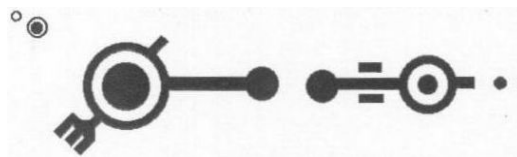

We are through with this at this time.

T-35: Understanding the nature and purpose of the "Dark Side of Life" Nov. 2, 1999 A JANU: I am Janu speaking and, having observed or analyzed the pattern under discussion, at this time we would make this pronouncement.

There, from time to time, will come before you those patterns that suggest validity. And from one perspective or level of perception there is nothing to indicate deception of any kind. Such is the case in this particular presentation.

This misrepresentation was not crafted by a mortal human, but it is an echo attempt by a third group at entering into this design and plan for enlightened communication, with another agenda, you see. This refers to your earlier remark on "Dark Side" involvement. These presentations or intrusions can only be known through the intuitive mechanism of the individual, for these "Dark Side" participants are keenly aware of your perceptive prowess and use that to advantage. There will be more such encounters but have no concern other than alertness and acceptance of the realities of life.

T35

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

The agenda to which you refer was to test, and is to test, the strength and effectiveness of this design and plan for human enlightenment as to its efficacy and the results in the consciousness of humanity. 'Twas ever the authority, the prerogative of the "Dark Side" to strengthen the metal, if you will, of the creative side of life through challenge. Seeing this element of life in this light, and we used this word intentionally, gains one understanding and appreciation of the wisdom of life and its constructs. The "Dark Side" is not a threat to you unless viewed without the light of the creative side of life, for in that light it is seen and appreciated for its truth.

This opportunity at this time is worthy of further exploration in light of a broader understanding of what is being built here, in exploring these glyphs, you see. For the illumination of the consciousness of humanity does include the full range of the constructs of life. And that means the testers who serve you by confrontation with alternatives to your choices in life. See these as opportunities to measure your convictions or commitments and your appreciation of what you have gained through living. They are no threat to the committed consciousness.

We would also add that the participants in that side of life are not always conscious of this agenda. That side of life has its hierarchy as well, with its degrees of awareness. There are many who have endured eons of involvement without the power of perception as to the path they have been on and their role in the larger scheme of life and their own destiny, you see. We are not here to abandon or discontinue this element of life, but to benefit from its purpose and honor all of life for its truth.

Do you have any inquiries at this time?

Q: What you said rings memory bells in my study of something called "Spirit releasement therapy," where the spirits which do these things which are not beneficial to humanity, but which are mere tests, shall we say, are released, can be released and in fact the whole chain of command can be released, all the way up to source. What you spoke of reminded me of those studies and I understand fully.

JANU: Please be aware that the reality of which we speak exists in what you might call "pockets of existence" throughout the universe and in different realms. This particular construct serves the duality existence of humanity but does not serve and is not needed in other realities. It is not a universal pattern or construct by any means, and comes and goes as each element or reality of existence has need of it, you see. For these realities create this construct by design and purpose and there is ultimate wisdom behind it, you see.

Make no mistake. There are those in the Hierarchy of Light who are directly involved in the design of these seemingly contradictory elements of life. It is wise to gain a growing understanding of that wisdom.

We will conclude at this time and thank you for the opportunity to reveal this element in our series of understandings as they unfold. It will contribute measurably to the strength and the diversity of your growing understanding. We conclude at this time. Namaste.

T-36: Challenging our concepts of the nature of reality

Nov. 8, 1999 A

JANU: This presentation will challenge, to some degree, your concepts of the nature of reality, the structure of the universe, and your place in it. Now, the degree of challenge, understand this, dear one, represents the flexibility of your grasp upon those perceptions that you have established for your foundation of understanding. We will proceed at this time straight away, attuning then to the masters of these presentations, the Hierarchy of Light.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Greetings, brothers, and we do say this in this way for we do greet our brother of communication as well, at this time. The journey for this morning shall include a presentation of those foundations spoken of eloquently by our brother Janu and realize this, that the scope of this presentation is measured for the acceptance level of the parties involved. It is by no means the full range of this understanding and would be unwise at this time. Do you have any questions?

Q: Would you go over that last bit again? As I understood it, we are only going to get a partial explanation, not the full explanation?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: To the capacity of your ability to accommodate these challenges.

Q: Is that me personally or me as humanity.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Everyone involved in this room.

Q: I'm wondering if others who read this might have a greater capacity?

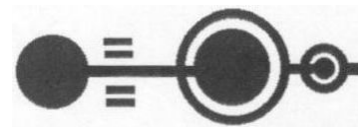

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: And they are free, dear one, to make this connection.

We would invite you, at this time, to lay your cards on the table so to speak. "Cards" representing, then, symbolizing your cherished values, perceptions, and conclusions as to the nature of life and your universe. You may retain them, of course, as is always your choice. Or you may turn them over and discover a new face. So, place them neatly before you, symbolically, of course.

This glyph represents that authority for this revelation of understanding for any who wish to partake of it. Now that your cards are before you, this glyph becomes the vehicle for the light of expanded understanding to shine upon each card, you see, casting an image of a new face, at times resembling the original and at other times appearing as contradictory or a complete departure. This will test your attachment to any understanding.

We now shine the light upon the first card. And this card represents what you conceive to be absolute justice on all levels.

Q: By justice, as you referring to the Law of Cause and Effect, what we call karma?

T36

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: That and more. The Law of Grace, if you will, meaning forgiveness, absolution, and others. All fall under this category. What we would add at this time, or acknowledge as being represented or imaged on this card, as an alternative face, would be the understanding that absolute justice has no binding law. To do so would limit the experience of the creator, the evolution of life, and the potential for creation and realization.

Q: By "limiting the experience of the creator," are you saying that creation is such that the creator can experience itself within itself. Is it something along that vein?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: That perspective is a component of a larger reality. That is included as you presented. To elaborate: the theme that will be recurrent in many of these revelations is absolute freedom, lawlessness, the nature of absolute, pure being. Now these presentations are offered as catalyst for your further adventures in each of these areas. Not to be explained in detail, each one at this sitting.

Moving, then, to the next card, that represents what you call Truth. Many grasp for truth as an absolute that can be counted upon and used without fear of alteration or reconfiguration. This is a limited understanding. The projection from and through our window of enlightenment, presents a new face, that being truth is a living reality. It possesses life, vitality, and constant nourishment from its source. Therefore, it is ever changing. Truth is best understood and assimilated and contributed to in the same understanding that one gives to synchronicity, timing, and what you call "being in the flow." For truth is in motion and is flow.

Q: I've heard the expression "the truth never changes, only our perception of it does." Is it our perception that is flowing or is it the actual truth that is flowing?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Both, dear one.

Moving on to the third card, that being your relationship with mortality. Mostly, the concern of many is their personal mortality; however, this card represents mortality in all creation. Much is spoken of Immortality, yet it is a vague relationship. Now then, as we examine the alternative, as revealed by this window to understanding, the new face presents immortality not to be seen as fixed or stationary in any way, but there is a mortality component or counterpart in immortality, for your immortal nature, even though ongoing, never stands still. So your perception of your beingness will change, for your beingness is changing. As you are beginning to see here, all of life is in motion and there is no thing that is absolute and unchanging, as a comfortable or secure reference for your adventures. Nothing, including the source of life for your universe. This theme serves, when accepted in your understanding, your mastership of your relationship with all that is.

Moving on, then, to the fourth card, that representing your connection with all of life. As you well know, this common perception of this reality is one of isolation, disconnection, even though expounding on the beauty of connectedness. We will now examine the other side of this card in new light. There is no sameness anywhere in this universe. Your oneness, as you choose to present it in your discussion is not well understood, for it is attempted to be understood from that perception of isolation. You are unique in this entire universe. To be otherwise would be to diminish the magnitude of life, its diversity, and its power to realize its full potential.

Therefore, this new face on this card brings to you a growing appreciation for your responsibility to fulfill life. The perception of connectedness and oneness that makes comfortable any notion of lessening of individual responsibility must give way. You are responsible for every moment of your existence. This does not suggest a burden of joyless task and concern. In the light of this new card face you will see and appreciate and gain from the reality that your individual responsibility is appreciated and nurtured by the rest of life, for conscious knowingness understands this and recognizes that life's completeness includes you.

We will sample one more card, of which there are many, that being number five representing what you call "faith." This word and perception used greatly in your world religions and scriptures. Faith, here, in light of this alternative understanding, is not a faith based upon empty knowingness, but a faith based upon the integrity of life itself, meaning your own as well. Discover, explore, taste the integrity of your own life and know, through this, discover that it exists only because the integrity of all of life exists. This is a faith based on known reality.

Subject to your inquiries, we leave this series at this moment.

Q: You said there were many more cards. Would we take these up at the next session?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: There are and it is your choice. We would prefer, if we may, that you explore and experience a range of these presentations in you knowingness beyond today's discourse.

Q: Would you name the next five cards for us?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: That would be a distraction. We prefer your focusing for the purpose of preparation and foundation-building for moving into and embracing successfully that which is to come. Do not get ahead of yourselves, dear one.

JANU: This is Janu once more, suggesting that you appreciate or consider the scope of what has been presented and what this invites. We will continue with this at another time.

T-37: Experiencing the electrical aspect of our crystalline nature

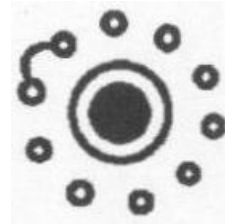

Nov. 22, 1999 A

JANU: As we have ascertained this morning, there will be the coming together of those who bring about these discourses in a fashion or pattern that best speaks of the coming of the new understanding, some call the "New Age" but is more revealing than that. This gathering boasts, if you will, a collection of what you might call specialists that fashion together a conglomerate or cooperative that performs as a vehicle of transmission of understanding and that which induces change that is on the one hand a focusing reality and on the other that which magnifies. Now then, proceeding with this at this time, we condition this attunement process to that we have just described. And yes, the Hierarchy of Light prevails.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: We are the Hierarchy of Light and we bring to you at this time those gathered in such fashion as described by our beloved Janu, arranged about this gathering in configuration best described as triangular, although multi-dimensionally speaking, that lend their abilities to a concentration of such, if you will, energies although that is not describing that reality very well, that will induce a crystallization within the being of each of you of that we are about to transmit at this time. Needless to say, this is not imposed without your agreement and is neutralized at your command.

The reason for this creation in your composition is to form a platform of receptivity and opportunity of assimilation of that to be understood and experienced and expanded if chosen. One moment for further alignment.

This particular glyph brings about this preparation and the ten nodes you perceive as small circles on the periphery represent--and in fact are--the ten realities needed for what you might call a jump-start into the realization of the true crystalline nature of your being, for your being is not organic, dear one, in the physical sense, but is, in fact, crystalline in nature that goes beyond the physical understanding of such, you see. The connection of two of these nodes is your entry point into the reawakening to your crystalline nature. We would have you, at this time, acknowledge your true being, represented by the center two concentric circles, and this is the authority for--and by this we mean that which contains the keys to understanding and acceptance of the reality of--this journey.

T37

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now, in a sense, these ten peripheral circles represent ten facets of your crystalline nature. And the upper left quadrant, where two are joined, this represents a bridge between two facets that creates enough imbalance modification as exit point and re-entry point for your journey into organic experience, you see. In this case, your third dimensional sojourn. Now, by the authority of that which creates your experience and your sense of being, become one with this bridge symbol and allow yourself to re-experience this connection and its charge. It has a unique pattern that might seem electrical in part, but it is in motion and vibrant. and you now have the opportunity to re-experience your nature initially as an electrical being, but you are much more, as you will soon discover.

Exploring the electrical component of your crystalline nature facilitates random and simultaneous journeying, awakening to this reality. No longer limited to human perception, you awaken the cross-currents and flows of the vitality of your true being. The bridge will remain intact for your return to human reference and continuation. But for now we will explore this level of your true nature. Even the bio-potentials and associated pathways in your physical being are an extension or expression of this complex electrical patterning of the crystalline nature of your true realities. Therefore, the communication interface exists for exchange throughout the being, including the projected personality. As above, so below, if you will. For your being creates after its own kind, in the image of God, if you will.

For this morning's journey, we will linger in this electrical nature of your reality, for your accommodation and acclimation.

(extended pause)

You will, in time, learn to communicate with others on this level of the reality of your true nature, recognizing their electrical crystalline pattern for identification. This, in fact, is how the one through whom we speak is initiated, the nervous system monitoring of understanding, for discernment and direction. A useful tool.

That will do for this opportunity. We now journey once more to our two contact points in our crystalline structure, forming this bridge for projection into organic life of your world. You now once more are this bridge, seemingly outside this construct, and accepting once more human connection. We bring stability to this movement, that all is as it was. And now gently relinquish this journey to its proper role in your path.

We withdraw at this time. Much yet to be accomplished.

JANU: Janu speaking once more. We would have you understand at this time that what has been offered, and what has been experienced, holds a key for the many journeys to come. For the movement of consciousness for humanity is the realization of true nature, and this, of course, is accomplished by journeying past your current reference for exploration.

T-38: Divine Order

Nov. 29, 1999 A

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Our greetings, children of the Light. We are the Hierarchy of Light greeting you at this time, commencing with this day's opportunity, that which you would call "Divine Order."

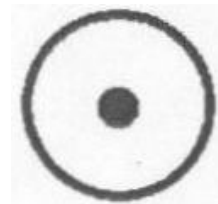

What we have at this opportunity, this juncture, is a representation of a reality that, when embraced, reveals the divine pattern for all creation. Now, we realize this is a sweeping statement but nonetheless this is the essential nature of that which has been presented at this time.

To begin this journey into what can best be described as the "oversoul" of your universe, we would caution you to relieve yourself of any encumbrances in the form of unwarranted skepticism, before the fact, if you will, and enter this experience from the knowingness, the truth, and the clarity of your true nature. Place your trust there. For what safer repository, dear ones, for your concerns? When this is established for you, we shall proceed.

We would have you, then, engage this glyph as complete and balanced reality. The small central circle, center circle, represents "source of life," first principle.

The outer circle represents completion. Each contained within the other, therefore one. And this represents with greater clarity your true nature, for your true nature and the oversoul of your universe are one. So, the truth of this is that this is a journey into experiencing who you are. There is no technique for this, other than allowing yourself to be the completeness this glyph represents. You are in all of creation and, at the same moment, all of creation lives within you. Allow this to be your vehicle for journeying.

Through this, you will come to know God as some have sought and discover that to know God is to know yourself, to know yourself is to know God, for they are one, Alpha and Omega, beginning with no end and with no beginning. This reality of your nature allows you the peace to accept all that is without reservation of characterization.

T38

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

One can perceive the symphony of life collectively and experience it as their own. The "brother's keeper" understanding, carried to this completeness, reveals to you your caretaking of all that is. No longer do you seek to change one part of life without concern for the rest, for each is a universe and therein is the key to engaging it. The escaping of the physical dilemmas no longer appears wise, for they live within this truth.

That is sufficient for this journey. We will continue at another time. Leaving you then with this understanding, we withdraw.

T-39: A time in human history when a journey into darkness required Divine intervention

Dec. 7, 1999 A

JANU: The T-39 of your interest at this time resembles and recounts a journey in the history of humanity best exemplified by the courage to survive at a time when humanity was at its darkest hour. There was a time when the journey of humanity exceeded the limits of consciousness viability. There was intervention, however. Humanity earned the right to continue and the road to its current position was not always guaranteed, you see. At this point we will defer to the presentation of the Hierarchy of Light on this subject.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Yes, greetings, brothers. We are the Hierarchy of Light, availing ourselves of the opportunity to revisit and discover, or uncover, the root cause of some fears and continuing trends in human consciousness that influence even at this time. This glyph, this representation invites a re-awakening of the journey into light from that which seemed, and nearly was, irreversible in the opposite direction, you see. Let us prepare now, then, for this journey.

T39

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now then, in preparation, anchor your heart, your mind, and your powers of perception in the integrity of your being and your current journey into awakening into the Light. For this journey will touch and reawaken, rekindle if you will, memories in the history of sojourns. This moment in human history marks the furthest extreme in the full spectrum of the diversity of the human experience. We will know engage this glyph and your term "barb" is well put for that portion assigned by you that name. This journey is the spiral into darkness, beginning with the larger of the two circles. The curved line representing the uncertain and dizzying journey into the depths.

Remind yourself, this is a journey in memory only. Let us begin now, then, by embracing the larger of the two circles with your memory. Let us begin now.

This journey reveals the development of patterns of human consciousness along the way leading to the abyss. This journey, as you can see, was encouraged by what you would call the challenge of the dark side of life, encouraging humanity in a direction to reveal its frailties, inconsistencies, and those patterns of perversion that are, in and of themselves, seductresses. This was an ultimate challenge for humanity, for self-examination into the nature, the true nature, of its existence. This dark period rendered this world a dark world whose light became extinguished to the observer. There was a point at which the animal species were superior to the human in consciousness.

This journey predates your so-called "Dark Ages" but they were a reflection of this journey.

The forces of the Light watched over this journey and guarded humanity against the introduction of the development of forces of annihilation and introduced to a race in its most vulnerable position unable to resist the temptation to exploit such power. For, as it has been told, the Source of Life never abandons to the point of non-existence the spark of Light, the breath of the Divine in creation. And so of humanity still carries this memory, for it is still needed for many who climb the ladder into the light to challenge their commitment in the clarity of their quest.

The seductress of this journey was the illusion of power to be possessed by an individual or a few, to take from life and each other without regard. The path into the Light, dear ones, is the path of service, giving in the true tradition and pattern, nature if you will, of the Source of Life, with nothing but regard for benefiting others.

Now honor the memory and the service it provides to your journey into the Light, leaving you free. This journey is not to be feared in any way but to give clarity to the wisdom of your path into the Light, for this reveals the alternative.

We conclude at this time, trusting that this memory, this journey into darkness, brings clarity to the rest of your journeys. We withdraw at this time.

Q: You said that it was before the "Dark Ages" but how much before?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: This is pre-history, pre-Atlantis, even the deprivations of that time were but a reflection. There was a time in the human journey long after the world had formed when humanity, although not large in numbers, possessed significant command of consciousness to create its reality far beyond yours of this day.

Q: You've answered another question I was going to ask: if this took place in three-dimensional Earth plane? And it sounds like it did.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: That is correct. We respectfully suggest that to pinpoint a place in the history of your world as to this experience does not serve the purpose of this journey for, as we examine that which you have asked, it appears lost in the darkness, so to speak.

Q: I think a valuable lesson that might be given here is: How did humanity earn the right to continue? What was it that happened?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: There was a brief moment of transition from identification with the seductress of darkness to the true light of their being. This transition remained only for a moment and then the spectrum of the consciousness of duality and separation returned. However, this experience formed the catalyst, though embryonic, for the path of return. You might look upon this as a "fail-safe" mechanism designed by the Creator of Life, divine intervention, if you will.

Q: Is there a parallel with any of this with stories of Lucifer and the Fallen Angels?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Even this, dear one, is a story of reflection or an image of this journey of which we speak. This is the root to that story.

Q: And each of us carries within our DNA or cellular memories this experience of the plunge into darkness and the return to light?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Actually, the memory, dear one, resides in the soul and is continued in the memory of the lower bodies, you see.

Q: The consciousness of the animals being superior to humanity, is there a reflection of the dolphins talking to the Dogan tribe of Africa? The idea that these were persons from Sirius coming to talk with humanity. Is there any...?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: In this particular case, dear one, the recovery of the path of humanity was without off-world intervention. This was a journey into the core relationship between creator and created. There was no need, and the authority for intervention did not exist or the capacity to do so, by any other.

Q: That's nice to know, that we bootstrapped our way out of that one without any outside help.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: "We" in the sense of being one with the source of our life. For without that intervention viability would have discontinued.

Q: Is such a return to the darkness a constant possibility?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Less so as humanity progresses. For humanity chose this path of which we have revisited and the likelihood to return diminishes.

Q: We focused on the large circle. What is the symbolism of the barb on the--there's the pod and the pseudopod, for lack of better terms?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: As described earlier, the smaller circle is the depths sunken to in the journey. The barb represents, for lack of a better phrase, a thorn in the side, although this is a stretch in your vocabulary, to the journey of life.

Q: Would it be the Creator's thorn of memory? Would that be a...built in.....

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Only in the sense of the oneness of the Creator with the collective consciousness of humanity. For the memory resides in that of humanity.

Q: So that doesn't represent the "fail-safe" device, then?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: To continue with this line of questioning, dear one, would be a distraction from the central issue of this glyph. We would suggest at this time that we discontinue and you may reflect as you will. We are the Hierarchy of Light, once more returning to our central purpose in these investigations, the returning of the human consciousness to full memory of its heritage and its destiny.

T-40: a Paradigm Shift in consciousness

Dec. 20, 1999 A

JANU: We sense an unusual situation at this time, leading to a pronouncement as to what you might call the gravity of this opportunity. That being the configuration of these journeys as a composite reality for the purpose of preparation for a major shift in consciousness for your world. The tenor and the pace of these journeys will be changing to match this imperative on your immediate horizon.

We are adjusting, now, to today's journey, of which there was one recorded in your documentation. However, be aware that not only are these symbols, or should we say, what they represent depicted elsewhere in your world in other forms and mediums, but they are not the presentations of just one authority, you see. There are many. Even in these collections you are presenting there is more than one authority.

T40

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

This particular representation is a catalyst for the reorganization of, in the sense of establishing or revising, we should say, your current consciousness parameters to be able to grasp, embrace, and manifest the more complete body of consciousness needed by humanity in the years to come. This marks a pivotal shift in your consciousness patterns and structure. There will be no counter-productive influence by those not ready for this change, even though attempting to engage its offering. So the warnings, if you would call them then, are for the purpose of alerting to this change for those who are prepared for it.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: We are the Hierarchy of Light, the nomenclature that has been used as our so-called name for recognition has applied primarily to these preparatory journeys of understanding and experience and will discontinue for those who make this transition, which will be embarked upon at this time.

Q: What does that mean? When you say you are going to discontinue the term "Hierarchy of Light," will it be the same energies or will it be shifting energies?

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Simply put, the names offered for recognition and repeated connection are chosen to serve certain purposes. Names in your culture have a tendency to be accepted as lifetime identifications and, not only that, accepted as who you are. The names that we offer are not utilized in this same way. There will be an embrace of a different pattern structure that has existed prior to the so-called name change, you see. The initial name presentation is for those at a particular stage of preparation and that accesses that aspect or element of our reality best suited for that preparation.

As you embark on this journey of this day you accept or not this shift (or transition).

BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: We would suggest that you both acknowledge the sum total of your current consciousness, all that you can recognize, including your identity, your worth, your integrity, your beliefs, and your memories. And, on the authority of your true nature, allow these to be exposed to new light. The glyph of today's interest is the key to this, you would call, "paradigm shift" in consciousness. Allow yourself the experience of all the vortices of your energy centers, your subtle bodies, your light being, to be activated with the purpose of receiving new light. Even your true nature awakens to your personality more fully as a result.

And now, brothers, with the clarity of your trust and faith in the wisdom of life, activate the way of the pattern of this glyph. The key that is this glyph touches every element that has been described and unlocks the light to a new threshold of awakening. For some the key touches one at a time, for others the keys are replicated and touch all at once.

(extended pause)

Savor, now, this quickening. Although our introduction draws to a close, the quickening continues. Choose wisely that you prefer as your point of reference for each day. We are the Brotherhood of One Light. Namaste.

The following took place after attunement ended:

JR: I saw a flat, perpendicular to the axis of my body, seven-pointed star just above my crown chakra. And what this represented was the crystalline interface between the true being and the projection into the seven chakra for creating the body, or bodies, and another step closer to conscious realization of the true nature. The other most dominant experience was a growing change in completely everything having to do with what I consider important for me to engage in this life. You let things that consumed you before fall away and you get very clear about purpose and what you embrace. You see it a lot more clearly. That's just the beginning of it. It seems that the human ego and personality is really consumed with very finite realities. This moves you into the larger picture of who you are and your life and what it's about and what's really worth doing.

I didn't see going into it. What I saw was that this fully activated into a multi-dimensional reality and then acted like a key that went to every one of my chakra, all my subtle bodies, all the elements, the primary elements of consciousness, touched them and awakened them all at once.

And it gave me the new name, realizing that these names are steps in engaging elements or aspects of the totality of what they represent, who they are, qualities in your own consciousness. And so, for me, and this doesn't mean for everyone else, the current pattern for connection for me is either two ways--they didn't care which way--the Brotherhood of One Light or the Brotherhood of the Light of One. Either way, it's the same for them.

T-41: Moving along the chakra tree

Jan. 3, 2000 A

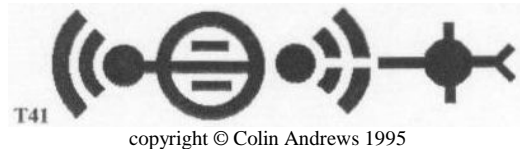

JANU: Now, as to this current representation, we would alert you to employ or honor a more stringent need for accepting protocols for this understanding and journeying as to the responsibilities imposed on both sides of this, as has been stated, "gate" into communication.

We are awaiting final configurations of these protocols and announcements to those involved for the activation of this system of configuration elements for the purpose here, you see. For one does not bridge the seeming void between worlds or realities recklessly and without regard for consequence, so there needs be placed in position, adjacent to the limits of this construct, those who guarantee the integrity.

HIERARCHY OF LIGHT: Well stated, brother. We are the Hierarchy of Light, well positioned for this opportunity at this time and we beckon your interest and involvement for the purpose of not only your illumination but the development of your skills in communication, benefiting all involved.

As the Hierarchy of Light, we are commissioned to perform these services, with the authority of those who represent the destiny of humanity. Now then, as to the matter at hand, let us proceed with this discourse and journeying as to the nature of and implementation of this morning 's glyph. What we suggest to you at this time, to begin with, is the addressing of the proposal to engage in communication, for this is an agreement to be achieved with the object of your communication, you see. We have heard and understand your purpose and are in agreement.

Place yourself now, meaning your focus of attention and consciousness, in the center circle, with the two bars representing the duality of your nature in perfect parallel balanced reality contained within the completeness of the circle. This guarantees your integrity through the experience. Your attention now is then drawn in the direction of the open pathway. The constructs behind you secure what is set in motion. You are in effect expanded, projected if you will, along the pathway of your energy centers you call chakra, which there are many more than currently acknowledge. And as you pass along these, your consciousness expands through the densities into the light and ultimately beyond. As you achieve different plateaus of light expansion, this affords you intimacy with each range of realities. At this point, you choose or select the reality of your interest, and welcome communication with those who are in harmony with and would honor this opportunity.

Bring no fear with you on this journey, for the Light is the guarantor of your experience. The full spectrum of life embraces this corridor of light expansion or projection. Well contained, so to speak, within this configuration, you are completely free to explore the complete spectrum of life. Be aware that this is also an opportunity to explore the reality of your own being and its many configurations and nuances, for it takes all that you are to explore all of life.

Linger for a moment, then, in this configuration, that it become an acceptable experience and natural. As you can see, this configuration might be called "your chakra tree," for there are many configurations radiating from the central core or trunk, if you will. Now, very slowly withdraw from this projection along the trunk chakras, finally achieving your previous configuration.

We of the Hierarchy of Light do caution you once more to embark upon this journey with care and precision and the acknowledgment of those who serve its integrity. We withdraw at this time.

The following took place after attunement ended:

Q: These quarter circles are representative of containment fields?

JR: Yes, the two partial arcs to the left of the image are continuous containment fields that allow no movement through them. The split arcs to the right control integrity with passage, or with movement of consciousness along the string of chakra.

Q: When I was in this, there was a reference to something behind me. I assumed these complete fields on the left were the ones that were behind me and I was looking to the right. And basically, in one sense, if this is compared to chakras, I was looking up to the top of the head, to the right.

JR: Yes, correct. Realize that the "looking up" is a three dimensional interpretation of a chakra reality. There are many more perspectives that reveal it.

Q: Often with channelers, I've heard them talk about spirits adjusting to the body and so forth. And I assume that this structure on the right was representative of what they might be going through to do that.

JR: What they are telling me right now is that that structure on the right is a configuration that they use, not you, to engage the configuration that you set up. It's their key into the configuration.

Q: OK. And then the two bars are, as they said, our duality.

JR: Yeah, completely parallel realities in perfect balance in the circle of containment. The journey describes it. Realizing as before, that the journey leaves the structure behind quickly on in the journey and you are out here way beyond. You leave this way behind. It will hold you back.

T-42: "Threshold One," the next level of awareness of life

Feb. 7, 2000 A

JANU: We are moving straightaway with this research this morning, this discovery, and proceeding without delay, as you have stated earlier, the next level of communication with our benefactors through the recognition code or pattern being the Brotherhood of the One Light. We will proceed on this basis for the time being until such time there is a movement to another level, you see, for this is a threshold in understanding for these series and there will be others. The choice, as always, is with you to proceed.

BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Greetings, we are the Brotherhood of the One Light, saluting your efforts and the commitment this day, welcoming you to and on board this which lies before you in understanding and, shall we say, direct experience. Far more so than before for you are ready, dear ones, to proceed in a manner that befits a consciousness with destiny that is larger than your current human journey. Today's entry will be utilized to initiate you into that which is to come; therefore, the reach or stretch, you see. Now, prepare yourself to allow the reconfiguration of your powers of perception, to include another perspective on your relationship with life. Do so in the conventional manner, based upon and centered in your own true integrity. We will pause for a moment or two for this alignment.

That is correct. Your vehicles are being adjusted at the root level, referred to in your terminology as chakra. What you call "merkaba" is a collective of this reality, operating as one integrated, coalesced unit, preparing you to, as some have said, move among the stars. Not only is this your destiny, but your heritage as well. You will come to understand and appreciate life from direct experience as what has been called "Star Seed."

Being initially prepared, we will continue at this time with today's journey, our designation "Threshold One." What this pattern offers is an opportunity to literally transform your consciousness from that of humanity-identity to begin the adventure of a universal being. The larger of the two inner circles is the key to embracing this threshold, for even as this threshold orbits within the collective of your true nature, it has as its core being the smaller central circle, which is the source of your light of being. And it represents one of many thresholds within the outer circle.

T42

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now then, to proceed with this entry, touch with your awareness your core nature central circle, and as you do, you have the experience of deflecting off its surface into the new threshold of consciousness. Do so now.

Q: The new threshold is in the outer circle?

BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Is the larger circle contained within the outer circle. Do so now, without analysis, by the authority of your core being.

(Extended pause)

As you embrace the light of this threshold of awareness, you will gain an awareness visually and otherwise of the subtle life emanations and realities of all of the manifest light around you. Dense matter reveals its light, and your own as well. All prior references of connection are maintained, but now you have added another layer of life to your awareness. You have the freedom to move along, in your centering, the entire corridor of consciousness movement between this threshold and your prior estate. Choose your location as we discontinue this procedure. We are your partners in this, the Brotherhood of the One Light, wishing you well.

The following took place after attunement ended:

JR: I have chosen to keep the corridor open constantly, but Janu suggested that I keep the upper end of it as a "shadow" opening, rather than full, until I get used to it. But they left it open. So...that's where I am now.

Q: Before you turn it off, I just wanted to recap that the inner circle is where we are now.

JR: It's your reference for everything.

Q: The other circle is the threshold of where we could be...where humanity is...

JR: That's what's being offered on this journey is the next threshold of awareness.

Q: So the corridor is some point in between.

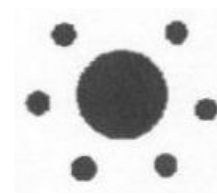

JR: It's a journey in consciousness, from the previous three-dimensional reference and human reference to this more light and more free realm.

T-43: cosmic consciousness through the eighth chakra under the authority of the master chakra

Feb. 15, 2000 A

BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Greetings, we are the Brotherhood of the One Light, having taken, as we have announced to this one, seven units of your time for alignment and preparation for what is to transpire.

We will, at this time, present to you an opportunity to organize or restructure your approach to journeying. Not limited to this, of course, for this glyph represents a coming together of six upon seven or six upon one realms or elements of your composite reality in a different way. The center circle represents what has been termed earlier as the Master Chakra. These orbiting representations represent not only those chakra under its authority of influence but together seven windows of opportunity reaching for an eighth. With symmetry and balance, coordinated by the Master Chakra, the eighth is activated and the channel opened.

T43

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Let us now then enter into this reorganization or structuring and awaken the channel to the eighth, not to be called a chakra as such for its reality is more refined and more diverse. Let us proceed then through this portal, if you will.

From the authority of your being acknowledge the governing bodies of its energetic realities, your current existence, to find symmetry and coordination under the auspices of your master chakra. Allow yourself to experience a movement in your sense of being to that focus. As this is achieved, the channel to the eighth reality automatically responds. You may notice your awareness of light increasing while embracing the master chakra. The Light Body becomes more vibrant. You hear the song of the coordination of your energy centers. There is a growing awareness of returning to that which is familiar and a greater sense of completeness.

Turning our attention now to the quickening of the awakening of the awareness of the eighth understanding, you are now entering into Cosmic Consciousness and a greater awareness of the source of life and all realities. Returning then to this estate makes available to you a relationship with more of life, made possible only in this way. Your vehicle of consciousness on this level has always existed. You are moving into Causal Life in your awareness.

Holding dear this reality of your nature, let us complete the journey of return, losing nothing you have gained. The pattern of your journey remains with the channel but your sojourn in your Earth life has been elevated. Rest in the light of this new experience as your attention returns to where you began.

The following took place after attunement ended:

Q: You commented as you were preparing that you were being shown that this was like dialing a telephone or like a Stargate. How did you enter this Stargate?

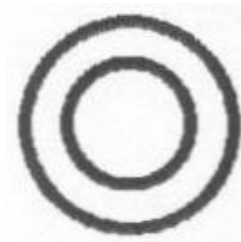

JR: By acknowledging the Master Chakra, which is the governing reality for the body chakra. You can't describe it in location. It is an illusion of third dimensional perception to describe them in location, anyway, because they are more than that. A reality can have a domain of influence that does not describe its location.

The conscious awareness moves from third dimension to the reality of that Master Chakra and no longer experience the facets of physical existence. You just become one.

It's just so expansive. It helps you realize and experience just how confining by comparison physical embodiment is to the consciousness. It's such a teeny tiny piece of the truth of who you are. It's only a moment. But as you expand your awareness to the rest of your being, by definition your connection with the rest of the universe is enhanced.

T-44: The co-existence of the divine paradox of creation and creator Feb. 21, 2000 A JANU: This glyph represents the coexistence of the divine paradox of life, of creation and creator. Most of humanity holds this relationship as dual when in truth they are one. But oneness understood in such a way as to bring about the realization and the experience that there is no separation between the apparent dual existences. Moving through this glyph in its way is not unlike experiencing the model of the tube torus or the mobius loop. It is the resolution of differentiation, uniqueness, and the true oneness of life.

T44

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: This glyph so eloquently presented initially by our beloved brother Janu is one of extreme, if we may present it this way, significance in these ongoing presentations, for it represents the coming together of all understanding, you see.

Now, this statement seems broad in scope and sweeping. However, in its simplicity of truth it unites all into the purpose of life. To accomplish this journey, one must avail themselves of a core trust in the truth of their being and the integrity of life itself, for moving into this one must relinquish their hold of exclusive individuality identity and expand to include touching, if you will, the Breath of Life. Fear, uncertainty, lack of confidence in what has been the unknown to you, retains your position in the former point of view. We now move with you in that which is known. Many have taken this journey, for it is the journey of life. You will experience an acceleration and intensity of the freedom of life in motion not described by your current frame of reference.

Let us proceed now as we may, with honesty, simplicity, as you choose. Place your trust in the truth of your being and all of your concerns find resolution in the direction of this journey. Move now through this relationship as presented into the purity of oneness. We are moving with you. The struggles in life become unified. Your quests find their place in the tapestry of life. The Family of Life is experienced as the mind of oneness.

(Extended pause)

You become aware that all of life experiences you in your illusion of personality.

(Extended pause)

As you awaken this aspect of your being, multiple and simultaneous awarenesses coexist.

This journey must be accomplished with integrity. Those ill-prepared may lose their hold on their human connection. Retain that of this that remains comfortable for you, while focusing once more on your human journey.

The following took place after attunement ended:

JR: I chose to leave a somewhat permanent focus of this reality within me. Not only to return to it easily, but for its manifestation to continue to grow. What a journey.

I could begin to touch anywhere in the universe, any creation and knew I had access to it. And I could really feel the rest of life experiencing this current life.

Q: Symbolism on the inner circle and the outer one. Are they spheres, first of all?

JR: What they represent is an understanding of the coexistence of creator and creation in such a perfect oneness that as you move your consciousness in that direction any sense of separation disappears.

Q: Which is creator and which is creation?

JR: You can't point to it in that way. All they represent is the journey from the human mind of saying "There's creator and then there's creation" into "There's no difference. Creator is creation, creation is creator." There is no difference. None whatsoever. And when you experience that personally, you just connect up with everything. And yourself. And all of creation is touching you. You can feel it. You're aware of it.

What did you experience?

Q: I saw things expanding in my eyes, like I was supposed to keep going out and going out. Wave after wave of concentric rings were expanding. Now that you mention it, I did feel as if I was touching things. I think I was losing focus and at times I felt like an engine that wasn't mounted to the deck. Like I was bouncing all over the place.

JR: There is a natural tendency, when you go up the rungs of a ladder, to not let go of the rungs before, and that's what that is. The lower rung meaning your human identity, and that includes all the human stuff of security, safety.... It's a frame of reference for all your journeys and in this journey the frame reference gets much larger.

Q: But they wanted you to let go of the ladder and fly.

JR: Yeah. Yeah. And then this journey, you become all of the rungs at once. You become the ladder. So none of the rungs are lost. They just all become resolved in the one truth. It takes a little faith in the integrity of your being and the integrity of life.

Editor's note: There were four individuals present at the next four attunements.

T-45: An opportunity to embrace our own origins

Feb. 28, 2000 A

JANU: For this morning's journey we will exercise a bit of restraint, if you will, that this episode in these sojourns be assimilated, find receptivity, in accordance with the capacity of each. We encourage you to enjoy these journeys and savor any freedom gained as a result.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Greetings, we are the Brotherhood of the One Light and we are most pleased and delighted at this gathering this morning. We encourage such gatherings for they facilitate a broader and deeper understanding of these glyphs, for each one makes possible a diversity of experience capturing more completely the wholeness of the opportunity.

Now then, let us focus upon that which is before us. And we would say this: This image best represents the opportunity for each to embrace their own origins. For this represents the shadow reality of the process of engaging your current journey from the breadth and scope and depth of that you are. Once again, we engage this beyond the two dimensional representation and will, as a result of this configuration, spin up, if you will, your consciousness and your vehicle orientation to engage in this setting at this time a greater sense of the sweep, the scope, of your true nature in the sense of the countless journeys in life of your undertaking. This has little meaning, of course, until you journey with us.

T45

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

The question then: How does one begin? We begin by acknowledging that the first impression will be, for most here, a counterclockwise spin experience of the stability of your energy construct. For to lower into this octave of life you now enjoy, you have stepped down in frequency and in spin configuration, for this density. For the greater densities, you see, are described in this way. Multi-dimensionally, this symbol represents a spiraling increase or decrease in spin configuration of your collective nature. At this time we will, as we said before, spin up.

Center yourself now in the integrity of your true nature. Place your confidence there, in the rightness of all things. And now, allowing the spiral to begin, the spinning up, visually place your hands above your head together and elevate into the spiral. For a moment you pass through the veil of separation which will clear in a moment as you ascend. You begin to experience the transformation into the lightness of pure being, no longer the constant pull of gravity and the sense of weight and heaviness. No longer limited to human form. The reach of your interest no longer limited by time and space. Allow for a moment to draw near to you the memory and the familiarity of who you are. You have had so many vehicles of expression and experience. But who is having them, dear one?

In time, from this vantage point, you will accept the presence of your Family of Light and become aware of them and share your experiences and your remembrances.

And you will take this with you into the return of your current sojourn and you will never feel alone in anything from that point on.

We feel this is sufficient for this introduction. Consider now reducing your spin, retaining your memory of what you have gained, and spinning down into the density again of your human journey. Down the spiral which you now realize you own. This is a gentle and deliberate journey, to be undertaken with confidence.

T-46: from the triune into the one, the seed kernel of your life where you own the beginning and the end of life

March 6, 2000 A

JANU: Yes, greetings, children of the Light. I am Janu speaking once more, and welcoming you to this moment of opportunity for these journeys. We congratulate you on your investigation of your points of view. We find them encouraging for these expressions of understanding and the contributions of those to them search for and look for the fruit bearing, you see. And we encourage at all times the searching for meaning and appropriateness for your interest and your service to life. Please continue these to their conclusion without discouragement from others in any way.

The diversity of life and the process of its expansion and expression places, along the corridor of these journeys, one's connection through their interests and desires that do not compare well for understanding with other points along that corridor. That is only a matter of perspective.

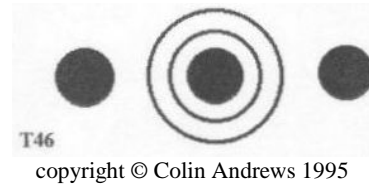

Q2: Although I'm open to many vantage points on many levels, the work I do is to bring these large concepts down to a more suitable form for the layman or more ordinary person, the beginner on the path. Although the work is interesting and fascinating to people of higher experiences, my main focus at this time is to help the less knowledgeable. Is it possible for you to give some form of formula to the understanding as we move through?

JANU: The formula already exists, dear one, and it exists within the latent consciousness of those you choose to assist, for the greater advantage for you in effectiveness for your service to them is not only the understanding of that from your place in life of which you garner understanding but to recognize and stimulate the genius in those you term as being less advantaged into the awakening. So, it is not so much your service to them to bring these seemingly transcendent understandings to them, but through your appreciation of the truth of life to help them find theirs.

The purpose of these journeys and these discourses is not so much to place into words the truth of life, but to inspire and encourage those who can move beyond the words and live the understandings that are revealed to them from within them; to reach to others, whether of so-called esoteric foundation or not, to quicken their energies, knowing full well it has been there for eons. These journeys are merely encouragements, not to be held in any awe or esteem.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Greetings then, Children of the One Light, and we do say this with some authority. We are the Brotherhood of the One Light, of which you are a part in ways you have yet to understand but may as you choose.

We proceed, then, with this morning's opportunity, and summon at this time those who will assist each of you who choose to embark upon this journey to reach the fullest potential of your experience. Now then, what we are preparing here for is, as our brother has commented on earlier, the resolution to a consciousness, centered in duality, of the triune nature of their own existence. This particular glyph represents an opportunity to own the life embodied in your current journey. This is a recurrent theme, to free one from the limitations of their creations, not to escape them. And you are correct, dear lady. These finer circles represent the projections or emanations of creative consciousness when in possession of this symmetry of life.

Understand this, then, that projection into your octave of life proceeds along the lines of the progression or expansion of threefold or triune seed or kernel, embraced in the essence or core of a single thought which life responds to and clears a way, so to speak, within the field of creation for such expression. What you are returning to at this time is the seed kernel for this life of yours. Allow the triune, the three, to return to the one. Stand in your current configuration of life and allow this to be.

This is the seed thought of your True Nature for this journey in the third dimension. What you experience then is the return path of life of your outward journey and you realize a perspective of completeness, no matter where you are in this progression. You are Alpha and Omega, in the truest sense. You are the journey, its many steps, its outcome, and original impression or impress, all at once. You own, in this moment, your entire journey. You are the past, the present, and the future and can know it. You are divine fire. And you are the creator of life. This is the nature of the truth of your being and the home to all of your journeys. It was never ordained, dear ones, that you leave your home, not to return.

Our brother through whom we speak wishes to remain but the journey is still unfolding. We withdraw slowly from this. Let us complete this withdrawal and we will entertain your questions. Here is found true peace.

Q: When I heard words like "triune" and "completion" I felt things like...like I said, past, present and future" and "one" and I felt things like different bodies but that are not. I was reminded of the one verse parable of Jesus concerning the old woman and the three sacks of grain, to which she added yeast until they were leavened. And I saw similes in that and the words that I heard you speak. Of course, newer versions of the Bible eliminate the three sacks of grain and call it something else, which loses the meaning. I wondered if you know what I'm talking about and if you have any comments on what I see and feel in this?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: The leavening, dear one, is the oneness, is the completion reality. All life finds its purpose and its completion in this one truth. The purpose of the journey, dear one, is this realization. For you can appreciate and own, if you will, all the elements of your experience in this way.

Q: I take your response as something comparable. Jesus in his time, in his way, talking to his people, expressing it in his language, with one set of picture words. And this is another set. And there is similarity between them. Am I correct in this?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: They are the one truth, dear one.

The following took place after attunement ended:

JR: That's the clearest I've ever seen. The practical side of Oneness, if you will. I could see it. I owned the beginning and ending of everything. It's so simple and beautiful and yet unlimited in its breadth.

They were right. I didn't want to come back. And I really haven't. I'm understanding more and more that as you take these journeys of introduction into a larger connection with life, you never come back all the way from them to function here. You're changed. Your relation to life in the third dimension is changed. It doesn't go back. It just doesn't. You're connected. There's memory and accessibility. You have access now, consciously, more than you did before, to something that was always there. The reason it was always there is because that's how this got here. This is testimony to its truth!

Q: I think it bears repeating that each of us taking this journey will see it differently and will have, perhaps, different experiences.

JR: We have to. It's built into the system of life, because life's richness is its diversity and we are all part of that diversity. And we must see it differently because each one of us is embodying another element or part of the whole life.

Q: And all of these views are the correct view?

JR: All of them. Every piece of a puzzle is valid and the puzzle is incomplete without any one of them. It's really beautiful. That's the first time I've seen it that clearly.

Q2: What I am working with is the fact that I'm actually in a different reality now. I am home and everything that goes on is, I seem to be doing with my physical but my internal is doing its thing whilst my physical just fills in the necessities of the day. I was shown in my journey everything practical and I liked the part about being home, because I know I'm home now. Just even the practical of being in Georgia, which I've chosen for its beauty and the people, makes me feel home in the practical and home in the esoteric. I was shown every dream that I've had in twenty-one years coming together in a linear form, that I would do all of these things, and that my way is that I know all of the stretch stuff, all the far stuff. I know it. I don't have to be there. I can concentrate on doing what my work is to be.

And I have to say something to you when we switched this off. That was my experience of it. It was exactly as I saw it, that the two sides were balanced, giving me freedom, which was the word they used, freedom to go into the alchemical center. That when the two came together there was an alchemical activity that made something different. And that something different was not my escape but my freedom into this allness and that it was now up to my center which I function as...or it functions as me...and all the emanations and vibrations that come off of that. That was my experience.

T-47: destiny accessed through the resolution of the illusion of past & future

Mar. 20, 2000 A

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: We salute you this morning as the Brotherhood of the One Light approaching you ever so slowly at this time, conducive to the anomaly of acceptance of the patterns of this journey unfamiliar to your current surroundings. These structures, as you have described, pertain to vibration of sorts as demonstrated in your experiments of waves of sound or motion in a uniform field, namely your sand experiments. These experiments have been conducted in such a way as to put a, your term, transducer in the vicinity of the sand container causing waves of vibration, representations at different frequencies.

Q: This is like the sand on the plates with the sound of the Crab Nebula and the Crab Nebula appears in the sand?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: One such experiment. These represent patterns in consciousness, waves in the field of creation, and this particular representation represents the march into your future.

We would have you at this time begin this process by attuning to your destiny.

Q2: Individual destiny? Collective destiny?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Both, dear one, for they are not separate and one can be seen in the other. For one to assume that their path and its uniqueness is not demonstrated in the rest of life is an illusion. Now, what we are accomplishing here is for you to achieve a balance between that which has been and that which is to come. In the resonance of this balance you will achieve this pattern, which opens the window for your destiny, which is the completeness of all that your journey represents. Let go the illusion of past and future to see what is in store. When on this one central point embrace this field representation of the journey into destiny. We proceed with you at this time, guiding as may be needed. This is accomplished in the full integrity of your true nature and by that authority.

T47

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

As you resolve the illusion of past and future into the truth of your being, become the tone that is created. This is the tone of your being, which embraces the tone of this sojourn. You become as a vibrational movement and pattern in the essential nature of life. A pattern that is life, is vital, and is in motion. You are in truth the thought of God and your destiny is known, not merely as a human but as a thought in the mind of the One.

(Extended pause)

You are at once the pattern of life, the continuum which allows it, and neither of these. Your collective destiny, then, is to be all that life is. As the Father of Life is a grain of sand and an entire universe, so are you. So, each one's destiny is a part of life and, at the same time, all of it.

(Extended pause)

Return with us now to your former estate, retaining full memory and command of that you have achieved. We too reside in your destiny as well. As the Brotherhood of the One Light we are so honored at this time.

Q2: As I look back, there are a couple of questions I'd like to ask the Brotherhood of Light.

JANU: They are disengaged.

Q: Perhaps Q2 would like to ask those questions now so they are on the table for next time.

Q2: Or maybe Janu would...all right. So they are on the table. An anomaly was spoken of and I wonder if the anomaly being referred to is the illusion? That's one question. The other one is: If it can be given in a precise way, what is the formula in simple terms of breaking through that anomaly so that people can really understand it.

JANU: The anomaly is as described, dear one, in the earlier part of this discourse. That being, the resolution of past and future into the true estate of your divine nature.

And the pattern or formula, as you have stated, is as has been demonstrated. We will continue with this further at another setting. We have disembarked from this course or direction at this time.

This conversation took place after the attunement ended.

JR: It wasn't that they didn't want to answer your questions. It was a different focus, different pattern, different set up.

Q: Before you turn off, what impressions did you get? How does it relate to the design?

JR: The pattern here is almost like a geometric baseline for individual journeying into the patterns that you generate in the field of life, as a creator for your destiny. This is a starting point. The whole figure. Universally, so that anyone, no matter what the element they are embracing, can acknowledge this relationship and see their own pattern. For me, the pattern I was shown was a swirl of energy, that's represented in a galaxy's motion of that swirl of planets and gases and things. I asked about that and they said your particular pattern or embrace of life at this point has its root in that because you understand that this is the pattern for creating this universe. Everything in this universe initiates from rotation.

Q: Fibonacci?

JR: Yes, but that's not the whole answer. That's included in it. That's why it whirls around. That's why everything spins, has rotation, orbiting and all. The thrust for this three dimensional universe is rotation. Even the orbit of electrons and atoms and everything is rotation. It's key to understand that and enter into that to explore this universe, because that's the core root of it. That's why it's so key.

For this universe, to create within it, within its parameters, and to move with its flow and motion. That's the motion of this universe. It's not necessarily the motion of universes. Which means that their outpicturing, their structuring, would look entirely differently. Interesting idea.

Q2: One question. It spoke of the Father as a grain of sand and a grain of sand as the Father. Was that just a term used or was it a masculine?

JR: No. It was just a term for communication, for common speech. Not gender specific at all. And it's not agreeing with any limited points of view. It's only for the purpose of communication. So you can let go of all that stuff.

T-48: resolving the dichotomy of duality

March 27, 2000 A

JANU: Yes, greetings, dear ones. I am Janu speaking once more, holding in the light that which is needed for this journey. We welcome you at this time and encourage your enquiries, should there be any. If there are none, we shall proceed at this time, embarking upon a course for this morning's journey that will lead to the coming about of what might be considered a hiatus in the flow of what you would describe as the rapid movement of the changes. We proceed now then to those that will convey this understanding at this time, the Brotherhood of the One Light.

They are aligning for this opportunity in a particular way by reason of the nature of this journey. There is a counter-flow reality to the movement of life and this is how life regulates its motion.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Greetings, children of the Light. We are, as you have known, the Brotherhood of the One Light and presenting at this time in a way somewhat different than before. Our presentation at this time is more of a crystalline nature, geometric in structure and interface, for we are presenting at this time that which comes from your perception of life on the heels of much expansion in the field of consciousness for humanity. What this means is, that the movement of life referred to as the consciousness of light is, out of necessity for many, a one sided view of reality. For there is confusion as to the depths of the human journey into depravity, and confusion with this side of life that appears to be contentious to your perception of the movement of life

What we strive for here in your gaining of wisdom through this journey is the achievement of true balance in the full spectrum of reality, for in this spectrum all exists. Now then, let us prepare ourselves to engage what this glyph represents.

The small node between the two circles represents your position in the spectrum of reality. The two circles represent the full spectrum of reality and its extremes that appear as dichotomy to the uninitiated, when, in truth, they are one. Let us now engage this structure and achieve that balance that unites all of life into one purpose. Center yourselves, now, in the core reality of your being. Place yourself in the center node and become one with the spectrum of life from that point. We enter now with you. Allow yourselves to extend and, in this moment of truth, experience the unifying 'isness' of all reality.

T48

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

(Extended pause)

The nature of this equilibrium on this journey reveals that all is truth. And achieving this victory in your experience leads to a freedom in experience no other way. The challenge, of course, is to integrate this experience into your day to day.

Q: When we started this, you indicated that there were three or four different groups that were preparing these glyphs. Are they in a common cause to present the glyphs, or does each group have its own thing that it cares to do?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Understand this clearly, dear one. The three involved to this point have passed the mantle, so to speak, from one to the other. The first two so engaged have moved on to other venues. It is not a simultaneous contribution, you see.

Q: But there is one basic curriculum and they just have taken their turns at presenting the information?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: The basic curriculum, as you put it, might best be understood as the collective consciousness of humanity, that which has been achieved. And, in some ways, its destiny. Not some third party, if you will.

Q2: I have two questions. One's a larger one and one's pertaining to today's attunement. So I'll do the smaller one first. I personally didn't feel there was anything different said from today's attunement about this glyph than we have already heard many times over in different ways. Is there something that is absolutely specific that we should have picked up that way I've missed?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Let us restate in this way. Much of humanity has settled into the dichotomy of the Light and the Dark. One to be in favor of and one to be suspect of. The experience in this particular glyph resolves this dichotomy.

Q2: Thank you. And what is the hiatus?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: The apparent hiatus referred to, dear one, is that which appears to be a suspension of the forward motion and, in some ways frenetic to some, of the changes in the direction of enlightenment. This equilibrium of which today's offering sponsored appears as no motion by comparison for it embraces, in perfect balance, the dichotomy of apparent motions of opposites.

Q2: Still in the context of the hiatus, could you say in a paragraph or a sentence what the destiny is that you spoke of? Since we are in a hiatus and are in fact recapping.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: The destiny referred to, dear one, is the human journey. The appearance of destiny as a perception or concept varies with your point of view along the journey. Ultimately human destiny leading to realities that no longer portray the journey of consciousness in human form but engaging more fully in the creation of universes, dear one.

Q: Not to split hairs here, but the use of the term hiatus, to me what sounds like is being described is a plateau in a journey. That we've reached a level and we're leveling out, kind of gathering our forces for the next push.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Hiatus being referred to in this case is as an apparent pause or break in the movement, to be continued at another time. As in all cases with these journeys, dear ones, the words can be obstacles rather than transportation, if you will.

This journey is not offered in the sense of a break from the changes in the movement of what you call the Light. It is meant as a more complete perspective in which to place that journey, you see. For you miss much in your journeys without this. If there are no further questions, we withdraw at this time.

Q3: My enquiry is how to recognize what is being described by the glyph?

JANU: Each one brings to the table that which they have to offer in preparation for engagement. It is not valuable or useful to compare one's appreciation of an opportunity with another. As to your personal motivation for this enquiry, we would suggest at this time that you acknowledge within your being, when embarking on these journeys, that they are no stranger to you. In every case, dear one, it is a path you have walked before. See not then these things as something to be achieved, but more to walk again; therefore, not facing these in your feelings and in your thoughts as new ground at distance from you. Taste these waters, so to speak, on your journeys.

Even as you see your art in your mind's eye, in your heart, and in every part of your being that is revealed, so are these journeys, dear one. Let not the words confuse or dissuade you in any way. These realities are beyond all that, you see. These are journeys of the heart, the soul, much more than what you call the intellectual mind.

Q3: Perhaps it's my intellectual mind that is striving for some recognition, perception that I can recognize consciously.

JANU: This, of course, comes with these journeys but realize in this way that in these moments of the experience and traveling, so to speak, the heart leads, the mind follows, along for the journey but not leading it, you see. Dwell on this in your leisure.

This was shared after the attunement ended.

JR: When looking to advance or awaken your consciousness in the terms that you hear most from others, and read about from others, etc., without this perspective there is still the element of struggle and frustration and "today I didn't get it, and tomorrow I do, and maybe..." You know. The pushing and shoving. The struggle to do this. That all disappeared in this. We are already there. And even the struggle you owned as if it were light, as if it were free. It's a sweeping, all encompassing ownership of it all.

Editor's note: To repeat, as this seemed to be of concern to all present: The "hiatus" is a break from the constant struggle we experience because of our perception of duality. This hiatus occurs when you engage the glyph and experience the equilibrium expressed by the glyph.

T-49: one-pointedness in perfect harmony with infinite variety of perspectives

Apr. 3, 2000 A

Q: I have a question that has to do with JR's comment with different people involved in strictly linear thinking might look at any one of these crop circles and come up with a different interpretation, a different view, a different vision than anything that we've come up with here. That, because of the linear thinking, it might steer an individual in one direction or another and all such steerings would be correct. The real way to get into these things is to raise oneself to a level of non-linear thinking. Could you comment on that, please?

JANU: Yes, we have this of which you speak and would comment on this in this way. There is pronounced among those who observe such activities an understanding that this reality exists in your world and it is not one to be in dismay about, for it is the nature of your--if we may use the term--dimension, meaning a system of correlations and correspondences for the purpose of expression. To organize life in patterns that you refer to as linear or progressive required by the consciousnesses limited to this dimensional perspective, as one-pointedness engagement of life. From our perspective, which includes yours, we see this multiplicity of life in a more inclusive way. Each one who approaches these opportunities for exploration and understanding gains access to the multiplicity based upon their current choice in perspective in life. So this experience best serves the moment of their existence, you see.

As we adjust to the continuation of these proceedings, may we remind you both that there is gained, or added if you prefer, a component to your existence not directly addressed in these journeys. It is cumulative and constructed by these experiences. We bring this to your attention for there will come a time when this accumulation will bring a movement or change in direction for the course of your life that you may wonder the source of, you see.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: We say at this time that this configuration of your choosing for this morning, your designation T-49, is known well to us and is one of our, if we may say, favorites.

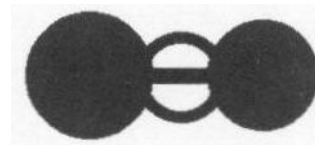

Q: Thank you. I have a question I'd like to get out of the way. We are going through these one at a time and, as we speak, there are new glyphs being laid out that are extremely complex and interesting to look at. Is the idea of our proceeding one at a time still vogue or should we perhaps be skipping ahead at all?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: If we may suggest at this time, the reality exists that these, as you put it, one at a time excursions appear to be isolated events, to some degree. They are not. The collective of understanding and the reality of consciousness and being that is exemplified by these many presentations is a unitary consciousness. Therefore, each journey into each opportunity, each pattern, is connected to the whole of the story, the journey, the meaning of, that has given birth to these. One may, in due course, when achieving a certain level of comfort with these, may journey to any of the other patterns or move beyond any one into the true nature of their source.

What takes place here, dear one, is the movement from linear to nonlinear reality. Each of these opportunities are linear accesses to a larger nonlinear life, therefore the accumulation of a number of these experiences in linear fashion leads to a movement into a nonlinear appreciation of composite life without undue stress upon the orientation or perspective of one of your worlds, you see.

Let us proceed then with this morning's journey. This particular representation has to do with the balancing and restructuring of, shall we say, the integral fibers of consciousness construct that hold your perspective, current perspective of life in its integrity. The reason we favor this particular pattern, by way of interest, is that it allows the absorption of many points of view.

T49

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Q: If it's a favorite, how come only one was discovered?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: One moment. There were three that were not. Many areas of your world do not appreciate the opportunity of these presentations for they are not as concentrated or frequent and are dismissed out of hand.

We proceed: This absorption of many perspectives of life leads to a one-pointedness that, within its domain, all perspectives find common ground. Therefore, this morning's journey is a brief one into the experience of one-pointedness in perfect harmony with infinite variety, which is the doorstep to nonlinear reality, you see.

As you have memory of your cherishing the beauty of any one point of view you have experienced in your life, on any subject, move into this moment of cherishing. Embrace this pattern, not in a linear progression of shapes and figures but as a collective, reorganizing the tapestry of your linear appreciation of life. Absorbing, then, this cherishing of yours and, through that vehicle, allow the experience of cherishing in the same way every perspective of life. And, in so doing, you become one with not only the collective of the elements of life but that which binds all life into one, you see.

(Extended pause)

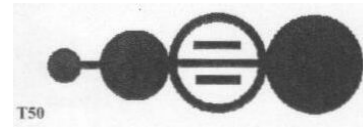

Now is understood the need for the preparations previous to this journey of mastering non-attachment. Identity shifting for the human perspective and timelessness. These are the markers of freedom.

T-50: a vehicle for travel

April 10, 2000 A

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: We would have you know at this time that these proceedings will advance into a new state or phase, if you will, not only of presentation but of preparation as well. And the baby steps, if you will, have served their purpose and will be laid aside. Moving forward now at this time, this morning's presentation, based on the pattern of your choosing.

This configuration is best understood as an arrangement of compartment for your vehicles of expression for journeying as it were through your cosmos. Visually see this as similar to, in motion, to the cars or carriers on one of your roller coasters, for it moves in this way along the corridors of transportation allowed by the configurations of the nuances of energy constructs in your universe. So, in this case, you become aligned with this configuration for transportation. To participate in this way one must address their willingness to pursue understanding in this way, this method and recognize that engagement in a certain sense is not straight line motion.

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now then, place yourselves in the configuration of conveyance and, for our purposes, the portion or circle that is not solid in its representation. The two bars or straight lines are for the anchoring of your alignment with this vehicle. Use them as if they were armrests or handholds. You're facing the direction of the smallest circle. This leads the way.

We are now proceeding around the periphery of the orbital paths of your solar system, aligned with them. Disembarking from your solar system at a point tangent to the current position of Neptune, leaving your solar system at a trajectory of 41 degrees inclusive. We will take several changes in direction from left to right, picking up momentum with currents, accelerating our motion to beyond light speed. There will be times when we rotate or spin, if you will.

Our first connection is the three star cluster Alpha Centauri or its vicinity. Not too close, here. The eye is caught by the scale and beauty of the surrounding vicinity of orange hues and massive systems or star clusters, you see. Gaseous clouds prevail as well. Self-luminous. We linger no longer and move on. Describing, when all is done, an arc of travel, returning us to our point of origin. However, we have two more points of interest in this journey.

One being: passing straight through the middle of a ring nebula at this moment. Bluish white in color and you can feel the energy vortex as you pass through it. You are discovering on this journey that all is life.

The next engagement is that of a nova about to begin. You can feel the, if you will, prickly energy bursts from this sun as it begins to lose cohesiveness and make the transition to a new form energetically and physically. Its purpose, its contribution to existence is in major change. We will linger here a moment longer and now you can sense the high frequency tone emitted as a result of molecular and atomic and subatomic reconfiguration. This is a transitional tone, from one state to another. A form of communication that alerts others, other systems, of this change.

Now, moving on. We settle once more, entering your system, once again at the proper angle at Neptune. Returning your vehicle to its proper orientation, parked, if you will, for your next journey. Collect yourselves now in your conventional form and make the final adjustment of anchoring in your world. As you reach your stable state, we are through.

Q: You used the term "your universe" in the beginning. Is it our universe, including you, or is this something else? You're implying the third dimensional universe, I assume?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: That is correct for the purposes of this investigation, although not limited to, you see.

Q: The tone that is emitted as the--I assumed it was a star that was going nova.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: That is correct. Its tone changed to one characteristic of this transition.

Q: I assume there are novas going on throughout the galaxy and the other galaxies at a fairly continuous rate?

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: It is relatively constant, dear one. This, in a larger sense, is consciousness expansion mechanism, collectively for the entire universe.

This conversation took place after the attunement ended.

Q: They were so distinct when they said "your universe." Then when they talked about the configurations and I thought "Well, that's new information." And the idea of a pulse before it goes nova, the idea of sounding a tone. That's new information. Those were all things I wanted to elaborate on so that someone reading this in the future: "Oh, it sends out a death signal" or whatever you want to call it.

JR: Transitional signal. You know, I'm reminded as you speak that death is a concept pretty much limited to the third dimension. It's change.

They briefly brought to my memory that loud sound that you heard in a previous crop circle experience, as not unlike what that nova was doing, in terms of consciousness expansion on a cosmic scale. There's correlation. Into the third dimensional, linear, time based mind, as awareness senses a movement in consciousness expansion in a non-linear reality which is part of you, which you are part of, looks like an instantaneous sudden thing. But don't forget, it's non-linear reality. So you are seeing it as a sudden noise or sound, when in that perspective or reality it is a due process. It's not without process.

T-51: spinning up to a reality where only a thought is between you and what you would see and understand

April 17, 2000 A

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: This simple appearing graphical presentation is, as you have suspected, a two-dimensional slice of that which is far more complex. This cross section of this pattern is created by a more complex layering of rings, or coordination of rings we should say, existing in such a way as to yield this pattern. Now then, from a third-dimensional view, there being three such rings, inverting in through the center circle and looping through the outer three. Now this presentation does not reflect any motion or movement. However, these rings third-dimensionally and multi-dimensionally have much movement. They move laterally in a circular motion centered on their conjunction through the center circle. The direction of movement for each one counters the others. Their spin rate, or rotation rate, varies with the journeyer, spinning up and down in rate

T51

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

according to the need. We would have you know this at this time for the experience of journeying in this way can be disorienting at first.

Now, as to the purpose of this configuration, let us say at this time that being one of such symmetry of motion, this invites and organizes such symmetry in your vehicles of consciousness in order to accomplish a 'spin up,' if you will, of your light body. You will do this at this time, spinning up your three fold nature for third dimensional existence with a new twist on previous journeys of this nature, that being the revealing of your true creative power to organize your universe to its perfection.

Now then, let us proceed, our brother, with this morning's journey. This one we enter, so to speak, by embracing that which has been described, with your vehicles of consciousness taking on this symmetric, balanced, rotational relationship. Do so now.

The disorientation will pass momentarily for the increase in speed and motion will blur, in a sense, into motionlessness even though it be an illusion, you see, for the conscious third dimensional mind. And now patterns emerge in view and in this configuration of motion. There is only a thought between your vision and that you would see. And the added new twist we mentioned allows the viewing and understanding of purpose for that scene.

(Extended pause)

This has been a wonderful journey, my brother. May we continue with these as you choose, dear one. We are the Brotherhood of the One Light concluding at this time.

T-52: the spark of life in the True Nature

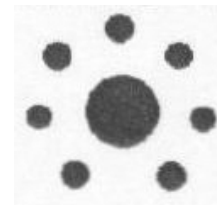

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Moving forward, then, with this discussion, we would have you know that there brings to mind through this configuration the focus or pattern of a journey into the depths of what some would call the "Dark Night." Now, this Dark Night experience brings about some amazing changes in the orientation and configuration of your view of life. We would have you know at this time that these changes are in order and are compelling in the sense of divine intervention.

Now then, let us proceed with this and bring our attention to the motion of this glyph and the absorption of your attention into it. This glyph, in the larger reality, is spinning rapidly clockwise from your perspective and forms a tunnel or bridge, the center circle representing the journeyer and the outer circles the corridors or conduits forming a spiraling tunnel of motion through the fabric of time and space. At the point of contact of the center circle with your attention, we are off.

Contact is made. As we journey through this tunnel, we are moving with ever increasing speed, better described as increased vibration rate, approaching light. And now, passing through several octaves of light, reaching our designated threshold exhibiting as the spark of life in the true nature. Let this settle in for a moment and find stability. You have asked for this repeatedly and now it is granted.

The reason some would see this as a journey into the "Dark Night" is that their perception, their perspective, is from the current estate into darkness rather than through darkness into light of their true estate with a journey of some faith and trust in the truth of your being. One of the attributes of this state of being is the instant manifestation of every thought you hold, complete non-attachment, a complete sense of being, your physical bodies as a shell, a contrivance to engage a certain octave of life of reduced parameters and opportunity for refinement, through these reduced parameters, of certain elements of consciousness.

April 24, 2000 A

T52

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

We have taken the liberty at this time to use this glyph for a journey somewhat beyond its initial purpose. Please continue with this for a time and grow comfortable with the experience. Notice the absence of urgency about life, the human motivations to engage in competitive excellence with underlying motivations of issues of self-worth. In this journey to return to previous estate, one need only withdraw their touch from the center circle. However, be it known, that one can control at will the degree of engagement, and duration. The choice is yours.

T-53: merging all lifetimes into a larger identity

May 1, 2000 A

BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: And we of this council will present today in a slightly different manner, at times quite a bit different, for this configuration conjures up memories of a past involvement in our configuration of life experience that brings to mind the journey of the elders of our persuasion of life. Pursuing this line of memory or recall and today's pattern, we would alert you and caution you to present yourself to this experience in a manner befitting the respect due to the experience that awaits you. Not that you serve this experience. It serves you, as always. But preparing one's consciousness for a full reception, you see.

Now, to begin, we would have you understand that there comes into one's life a time when your roots must be known, for to proceed past a certain point in your chosen life movements that anchor is needed. This seemingly simple portrayal or pattern is far from that, for it represents the configurations of a lifetime. And by lifetime we mean all of your sojourns and inner journeys. Journeys in the larger life, if you will. For it represents union, completeness, the collective of all that you've accomplished and the small projection to one side represents or symbolizes you as an active element of life, projecting into the fields of creation for experience and contribution. Simply put, this represents all that you are and all that you are moving into.

T53

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now then, to proceed with this journey, we would have you organize your collective instinct for ongoingness, acknowledging your entire life's journey in the larger life, which includes sojourns such as these, and touch this symbol as a complete being. This is an anchoring point for returning to your roots, which includes this moment. This will be your unique journey as it will be for our brother here, through whom we address you. You are not entering this pattern as your current human ego but far more than that. Acknowledging far more than that.

You may have recall of specific names, of past identifications, moments, glimpses of many existences. The purpose of this glyph is an opportunity to experience a moment of memory across the span of your existence and allow them to integrate into the collective whole of your true nature.

(Extended pause)

This brief encounter reveals, as you can see, a vast opportunity to explore. We alert you to do so at intervals of your need as this sojourn progresses.

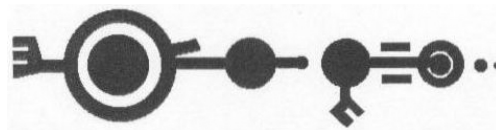

T-54: awakening to your true office in life

May 22, 2000 A

JANU: The organization of your vehicles and consciousness for this particular involvement requires from you the sum aptitude in the area of maintaining or regulating your composite integrity due to the challenges of those elements that can be distracting to a mind that is not focused and disciplined. Emotions as well are involved.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE

LIGHT: We have perfectly blocked this one's perception of the implications of this journey on this subject, this glyph, so that there will not be prejudice. We convey at this time an understanding that will progress of its own accord through your vehicles, consciousness, and to some degree into your individual future.

T54

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now then, for this preparation, we would counsel you to see yourself not only as a vehicle of light but as an intelligence or consciousness that chooses to assume responsibilities not apparent to many having taken this embodiment of your current sojourn. We would say at this point, daringly to some, we see no casual bystanders on the Earth at this time. Truth be known, each one has a story to tell, a history and tradition far beyond the current experience. And not just in terms of many sojourns, but significant office in the organization of life, yours being no different, dear one.

As to the purpose of this morning's journey and the significance of this representation we call "glyph," its purpose is to restore for each one not only the memory of, but the mantle of responsibility and all the connections included for, your true office in life. You understand now the need for the discipline of focus. Distractions will manifest in the form of human interpretation of glamour, importance, power, position, and the human reference of authority in the flow of life. This is a distortion of your office.

We will proceed now at this time allowing then the complexities of the multi-dimensional realities of this pattern to interface in configuration with the complex pattern and reality of your true nature. Understanding, then, that this term "true nature" does not signify a reality of being, simplistic in its construct. On the contrary, its organization of life is vast in diversity beyond your reckoning. Allow, then, all that you are to fit, connect with, all that this pattern affords. This is a journey into understanding, connection, and identity of experience of your true office. Proceed.

Some connections are sequential, some are simultaneous. It is a process that will take some time. For the pattern of your being, even though complex, is in motion. The process allows for connections to be found. There are those who attend you at this time, to assist in this connection.

(Extended pause)

Nearing completion, the pattern of your office is just beginning to be known.

(Extended pause)

That is sufficient at this time for introduction. Let the memory be recorded.

This was shared after the attunement ended.

JR: I started seeing my perception of it as a cloud of consciousness is my true nature, the cloud being a visual representation of something that is formless. But within the cloud were all the manifestations of my thoughts as a consciousness. I could see within the cloud or presence of my vast consciousness, spread out all over, many forms floating, suspended in this sea of consciousness. And they were creations I'd made and involvements of many existences. But the real me wasn't those. They were made of my thought. And I was a cloud of thought, a cloud of consciousness that could produce thought, have thought.

That was just an introduction. There was much more to go with this than that. That was the start of it. The point I was shown was 'as you and your universe are manifestations in the sea of consciousness of the Source of Life for your universe, so are your experiences within the sea of life of your consciousness.' It's absolutely parallel, creating after its own kind.

(Q requested clarification)

As you are the sea of consciousness manifesting results of your thought within the boundaries of your consciousness, so are you the manifestation of the thought of the Source of all Life for your universe in exactly the same way. So it's consciousness, thought, consciousness, thought, consciousness...you know. And it's exactly the same. All creation is made in the image of the source, and that's what that means. So your true nature is in the image and likeness of the One Source, in that way.

T-55: the many realities of time

May 29, 2000 A

JANU: For this morning's journey, we would have you know at this time that there will be coming to you an announcement of sorts pertaining to the regulation of these journeys by those so in authority. Now, by "regulation" we mean the sequencing and the depth or range of discovery as well as timing, for we are at a crossroads in the journey of humanity, calling for more precise influences in the paths of awakening. These glyphs bring this journey into focus for many but must be handled with great care.

T55

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: We suggest that you arrange yourself for this morning's journey on all levels for you are moving steadfastly in the direction of a growing responsibility in your relationships with life due to the increased awareness and connection with those things revealed through these journeys. There is an aspect of a serious nature to the mastering of wisdom and the realities of life. We suggest you carefully consider our relationship with these matters.

For today's journey and configuration of entrance, namely this glyph pattern, we call to your attention the ability to move through time. For this particular entrance pattern provides this opportunity to reconfigure yourself for journeying in this nature. Now, there are a number of levels of understanding connected with this focus: the three-dimensional perspective of time, and other dimensional perspectives of a time counterpart in their realities. In some realities, time is correlated to a sequencing of events or process. In other realities, time corresponds to the evolution of thought. And in some less dense realities, time corresponds to the process of the inbreath of life, the returning to source, the source of your true nature and that of the realms and realities.

Now then, for this day's journey through this pattern, we would suggest at this time, depending, of course, upon your interest, that you open your process of awakening to the focus of the meaning of time in one or more of its corresponding realities for you.

We see at this time, pronounced in your vehicles, uniquely for you, a need to reinforce or align, if you will, the time reference for your energy vortexes and bodies for synchronization. Hold the ideal for the moment of time synchronization for your vehicles at this time. Our brother will do likewise. Most walk your world a bit scattered and disconnected, in terms of what we have drawn your attention upon.

The focus at this time for you, dear one, is on the synchronization of your vehicles in the concern of time. Being in the Now. This is required before entering this glyph. And this accomplishment will determine the degree of penetration. Your frames of reference will be expanded as if leaping from a cliff, symbolizing secure foundations.

This is a journey into the understanding, experience, and mastery of the corresponding realities of time through the dimensions. Centered in the integrity of your being, proceed, entering this pattern, allowing your vehicles to pass through the filtering configuration of what you might call spokes on the wheel. This is a pre-conditioning alignment grid. Your preparation predetermines your degree of penetration through this grid.

(Extended pause)

As our brother now experiences, time in this first stage comparison is a fluid reality with many currents, not linear in the least. The next reality reveals, in a sense, time moving in both directions at the same time, simultaneously. This leading to the realization that, in the next reality, of time being a field of containment that holds elements of this reality in correspondence. Discovering now that these realities, these correspondences, are a constant ingredient in your nature and in your configuration. All of these leading to the experience of true timelessness.

(Extended pause)

So you see, our brothers, time has its roots to the Source of Life. The Law of Correspondences applies. That all elements of every reality that exist in a field of expression demonstrates their truth in more than one venue regardless of the expression. Even time has its reality in the totality of life.

We could journey further at this point but the configuration is not yet prepared. Time is the vehicle that allows for the movement along the unfoldment of the potential of the expression of life. We leave you with this seed thought.

This conversation took place after the attunement ended.

JR: There is an undercurrent here that they're communicating that we're nearing thresholds of awakening and understanding that allow for the ability to create in certain ways that carry responsibility. And they're encouraging us to--how should I say it?--be alert to a growing sense of what in fact are those responsibilities and do we accept them? Are we mature enough to accept them? What does it take to do that?

Q: I don't know if it is these journeys or what, but I notice I have, through time, a greater appreciation of any life, in any life form. Also, I was trying to go between the linear progression, the evolution of thought, the 'inface' with life? I lost the words. Anyway, I was trying to flow between them and amongst them, letting my mind do that. And sitting here I would think, "Well, there's progression of time," but at the same time I felt time suspended.

JR: Most of the time, the journeys expand for me when I don't 'do' anything. I don't see something, try to do something about it. I don't try to manipulate it or change it in any way. I'm along for the ride. The doingness messes up the ride, because as soon as you start to do something, it means there is a thought behind your doingness and that throttles the thing down to that thought, which can't flow like the journey is. It locks you out.

Q: Just let it happen and watch.

T-56: the call to muster from your True Nature

June 15, 2000 A

THE BROTHERHOOD OF THE ONE LIGHT: Let us proceed in an orderly manner as the nature of this glyph presumes such. We of the Brotherhood have taken this journey many times and have refined the entrance for initiation into such to a somewhat fine point.

Now as to the nature of today's journey, let us proceed with the understanding that there comes about in the life a time, an opportunity, when the call to muster is made within the self and this call must be answered. The purpose of the pattern of today's journeying is an opportunity to connect with that call. To do so requires a propensity for determination, commitment, if you will, to the ordered success of the adventure. The call to muster is understood best as a decree from your true nature. This decree, when responded to by the attentive personality or host, calls into point the virtues and the qualities invested in that life projection to bring about the focus of the life into true purpose. It does withdraw the human ego from the apparent unguided exploration of the human journey.

T56

copyright © Colin Andrews 1995

Now then, let us connect with this corridor and answer the call of your true nature. You will, in one way or another, hear the voice of the muster of your true being calling the regiment of your being into order for orders. Stand now in the exact center of this glyph, the fourfold nature of your human expression in your current dimension responding to the quadrants of this pattern. When engaged fully, you stand in readiness for the instruction to come. Please proceed.

(Extended pause)

When the call to muster has been imprinted on the human personality, from that point on you gauge the merits of your choices of involvement by the destiny for your life that you see in each choice. The way becomes clear, the choices self-evident, and your life moves with an increasing momentum like you have not known.

Nurture this opportunity to its completion and you will behold a life of clarity of purpose. We thank you, our brother, for your attention this afternoon.

This was shared after the attunement ended.

JR: The central theme seemed to be, once you finally have accepted and identified with that pattern of the call to muster, it is easier then, in every choice you make with what you do with your time and energy in the rest of this life, to guide the choice by whether you see your destiny in that choice. If you don't, move on to something else.